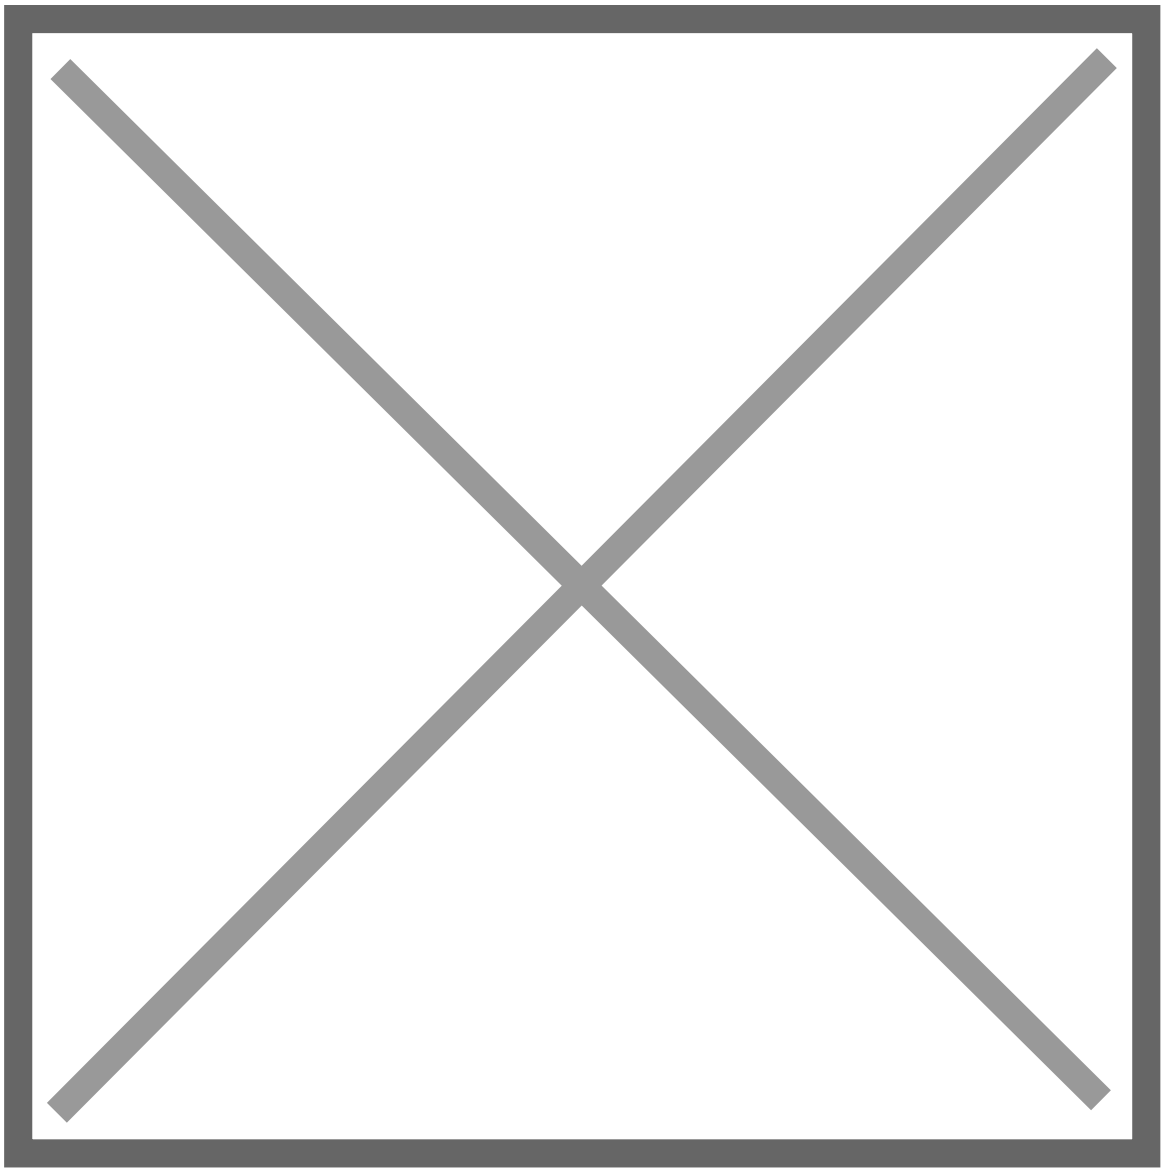
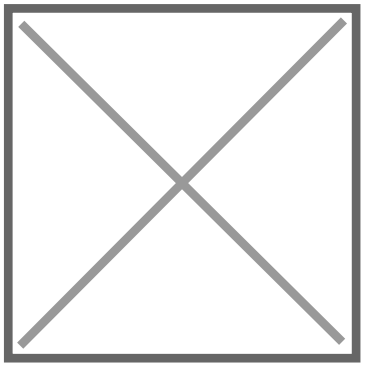
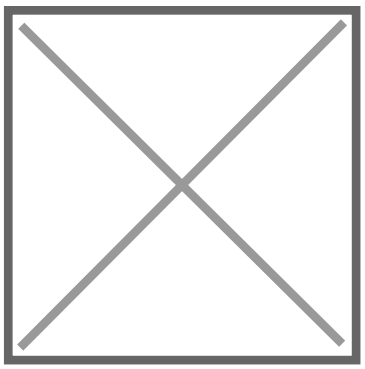
View PDF
Underglaze
Printing in a single color on earthenware and stoneware 1820-1850, printed and painted
Add to My Gallery | Create an Album



Additional Image:



enlarge [+]
A second toy mug, 1.875 inches high and 1.75 inches in diameter. Printed in the same pattern of a lion emerging from his den design as seen on a toy teapot also included in this collection.



enlarge [+]
Shown here are the two toy mugs side by side revealing the different designs painted on the handles and the inner border consisting of a design that is similar to the the tip of the peacock's tail feathers.
Shape Type
Miscellaneous
Pattern Type
Animals
Date
1820-1840
Dimensions

- Diameter: 1.75 in (4.45 cm)
- Height: 1.63 in (4.14 cm)

Maker
Don Pottery

Description:

A toy mug printed in black and painted underglaze in a pattern depicting a peacock roosted on a fence or wall. Machine turned base. Geometric pattern on the inner border. Painted handle. A second similarly shaped mug, only slightly larger, with a different pattern is included below. These toy pieces are attributed to the Don Potter and are documented in John Griffith's book titled expand [+]

BACK TO CATALOG INDEX

Printing in a single color on earthenware and stoneware 1820-1850
View All

Animals

View All

Examples by Maker

View All

Printed & Painted

View All

Print Type Indexd

View All